AFFAIRS IN SOUTH OMAHA

City Council Will Hold an Interesting Session This Evening.

MAY REORGANIZE THE COMMITTEES

Changes in the Personnel of Committees Are Now Being a Very Common Occurrence—News in General from Magic City.

Tonight is the regular monthly meeting of the city council and it is expected that a quorum will be present. Rumor has it that there will be something doing and that an entire reorganization of the committees of the council may be perfected. This reorganizing of the council is getting to be almost as regular an occurrence as the South American revolutions. However, there is a reorganization movement on foot and it may develop tonight. Johnston, chairman of the finance committee, is perturbed because at a recent meeting the council failed to allow certain bills and claims he had marked up for passage. Failure to allow the bills of the electric light and water company was commented on at length at the time. Investigation shows that there was a rumor that the finance committee had intimated that a "donation" of 10 per cent of the total amounts of the bills due was coming to the council or at least certain members of it and this has caused the delay in the handling of the bills. There is also consideration of the salary allowances, the wages of policemen and firemen and the street repair claims there is nothing special to be done as far as the slate goes.

Rumor has it, however, that an attempt will be made to reorganize the committees. While three does not seem to be any desire to change the head of the list there is some demand for a change in committees. Johnston, it is asserted, will not serve on the finance committee as long as Martin is a member and the reorganization scheme is for the purpose of getting rid of one or the other of these members. Just which faction will prove the stronger in the fight to come remains to be proved.

Aspirants for Office.

John McMillan, formerly postmaster here, and Thomas Hector are both making a hard preliminary fight for the democratic nomination for county commissioner. McMillan has just come into possession of $21,000 through relatives of his wife, while Hector is now in Kansas seeking to a half section of land which he owns. Both McMillan and Hector say they will spend all they can raise to secure the nomination and election. At the present time the democratic party is badly disorganized and it is doubtful if either of these parties candidates can secure the nomination without a hard fight. The republican candidates for this office are lying low, saying nothing, but are doing good work. It is predicted now that the republicans will have a time of it regarding the election of a county commissioner this fall on account of the fight now going on in the democratic camp.

Range Season Opens.

Representatives of the railroad operating in the west and the northwestern section of the country say that the movement of range cattle will commence about the middle of this month. Reports received at railroad headquarters are to the effect that ranchmen will ship only beef steers this fall, holding back young cattle and feeders for future use. If only beef steers are sent to market the receipts will be diminished to some extent, possibly. Owing to the late spring the range shipments will be at least fifteen days later than usual, so it is stated by those who are in correspondence with northern ranchmen.

Owner Remains Forwarded.

The remains of Al Owens were forwarded last night to Cincinnati for interment. The deceased met his death by drowning in a lake at Ogalala on Thursday last. Brief funeral services were held at the family residence. Twenty-seven and G streets. These were attended by members of the Eastern Woodmen camp, No. 1095 and of Knoxall council of the Royal Arcanum. As the deceased was well and favorably known here a large number of friends and acquaintances attended the services.

Tax Notices.

The special taxes levied for the payment of the opening of Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets north from Missouri avenue will become delinquent on August 15. There is no interest charged on these taxes now, but after the date mentioned interest at the rate of 1 per cent a month will be charged.

Filthy Alleys.

In spite of the statement made by the sanitary inspector that he proposed to have the alleys and backyards cleaned, the conditions existing downtown are the same as before. In the rear of the city hall building there is any quantity of rubbish and just across the street is a pile of rotting fruit, which would not be tolerated in any place except South Omaha, where the sanitary regulations are not enforced any more than they are here. Nearly all of the downtown alleys show the necessity of a cleaning up and the inspector, if he so desires, can find plenty to do without going two blocks away from his office.

Lowell Adair Escapes.

Lowell Adair, one of the prisoners who escaped from the penitentiary at Lincoln the other day, is well known in South Omaha. Adair has been in the city jail here a number of times for petty offenses. He has been up for inadvertently signing other people's names to checks, and then, again, he has so far forgotten himself as to enter houses to which he had no key. The police gave Adair a sign of relief when Adair was sent to the penitentiary, as it relieved them of the work of keeping tabs on one of the brightest young crooks in the city.

FELL IN A HOLE

A lady customer rushed out of our store to catch a street car, and when signaling to the conductor to stop, she fell into one of those delightful lakes summer resort lakes, which are scattered all over the city. She threw her rope and got her out safe, and she got her car before we had time to apologize for the accident. For the condition of the streets, she was mad enough to swear, but didn't hear her.

AT THE BLUFFS.

Buffalo Bill's Wild West Will Appear There Tomorrow.

Messrs. Cody and Salisbury have never failed each season to give us some novelty of interest and instruction and this season they have taken another page from current history that is interesting, thrilling excitement and spectacular splendor outside anything they have heretofore attempted, even their cowboy, the charge of San Juan hill. This novelty is the relief by the forces of the allied powers of the ministers and other Christian representatives who were so recently at the mercy of the Chinese Boxers in Peking. Historic accuracy as to the manner of this representation of the battle of Tien Tsin, as it has always done with everything presented by this management. This is made easier for Messrs. Cody and Salisbury than for others, because of the employment by them at all times of representative soldiers from the various armies of the world, and this season their agents have scoured America, Europe and Africa to get fresh material for the entertainment, at the same time seasoned soldiers of these armies. In this they have succeeded and they are thus enabled to give a review, march and attack that for picturesque beauty, excitement and spectacular effect is greater than anything that has ever heretofore been presented.
